

Big easy band's preferred vendors

New Orleans knows how to throw a party, and as such, the city boasts some of the most experienced and professional event planners and event spaces in the world. Building the right team to deliver your vision is crucial and can be a bit overwhelming, considering the abundance of professionals in the area. Fortunately, we've worked with many of them and are glad to offer our recommendations built on decades of experience.

Our list serves as a starting point as we work with great new vendors all the time and update our list accordingly. The list is alphabetical, and we'd happily answer any questions about our experiences with these professionals.
